STILWELL SPORTS SPOTLIGHT

Stilwell Indians Football: New Coach, New Season

Commentary by John Bankel

The 2023 Stilwell High School football season is just around the corner. A new season always brings a sense of anticipation and excitement along with cooler Fall breezes. Those breezes will have to wait since we are still in the thick of a hot Summer. With practice starting August 1, the first few weeks are sure to be a test of endurance and will for the players who have decided to come out. The 2022 season was one of the most successful in recent Stilwell football memory as the Indians finished with a 5-5 record and narrowly missed qualifying for the playoffs. Many of the key players from that squad were seniors and have graduated. This year's team will have a new look and a new head coach. The head coaching job opened up when Beau Collins handed in his resignation due to family circumstances. As it turned out, Bryan Ross had been hired as the new Offensive Coordinator just prior to Coach Collins' departure. Coach Ross had brought a wealth of head coaching experience with him; for Stilwell's sudden need for a head coach, this turned out to be providential. Coach Ross was asked if he would be interested in, once again, being a head coach. He said, "Yes." Bryan Ross went to Clarksville Arkansas High School where his father was the head baseball and football coach for many years. Ross played high school baseball and football. He said that baseball was his better sport. After graduating, he started his collegiate baseball career with West Arkansas Community College. From there, he was offered a scholarship to play for U of A-Little Rock, a Division I school from the Sun Belt conference. I asked him if he had had MLB aspirations? He replied, "Yes, I did." Being a coach's son and having excelled in sports, left Bryan with a distinct desire to follow in his father's footsteps. In 1992, after finishing his playing career, he accepted the head baseball and assistant football positions at Charleston High School, a small school outside of Fort Smith. In 2009, along came an opportunity to move up to Siloam Springs High School, where he would spend the next 9 years. He guided two squads to playoff wins in 2013 and 2014 despite the fact that Siloam had been moved up from 5A to 6A/7A to play with the "big boys." In 2018, with 2 years left for full retirement, Ross took the head coaching job at 7A powerhouse Conway and a chance to tussle with perennial 7A champion, Briant. He recalls a Briant-Conway barnburner, where his squad lost in the final seconds of the game. His next move came in 2020, when Locust Grove head coach Neff, who is a Stilwell Alum, called Ross to be his Offensive Coordinator. There he spent the 2021 and 2022 seasons. The passing of Stilwell Offensive Coordinator Zach Self opened up the Offensive Coordinator job at Stilwell. After finding out about the opening, Ross was hired. And now, Bryan Ross finds himself as the new Stilwell High School head football coach. We spoke about the upcoming season and what he has seen so far. He told me that, until the team gets into full practice mode, his assessment is still premature. He said that the Freshmen show good overall talent with a good mix of skill players and linemen. I asked him what he expects from the returning players. He replied that leadership will be a key component of building a team. On offense, the Indians will display a spread offense with a balanced attack. Being physical on both sides of the ball will be key. According to Coach Ross, only 2 things can be controlled: "Attitude and Effort." And, in the words of legendary Coach John Wooden, "Give it your all; play to your capability." Coach Ross could probably write a book about his coaching career. Being the new Stilwell High School Indians head football coach will be the new chapter. The first installment of that new chapter will take place on September 1 at 7pm at James Bradley Memorial Stadium as the 2023 Indians take on an old rival, the Class 3A Roland Rangers. Kickoff is at 7 pm. Come out and fill the stands with robust cheering!

They Risked It All/It's the Truth

MEMORIES OF FARM AND FAMILY

Number 35 By Donna Boecher

ASK THOSE QUESTIONS YOU'RE THINKING

My grandparents, I had over and over again. My two sets, had questions but they – for the most part – shared them with someone. One grandmother wondered why one of her children had died in infancy, although she had reared nine; eight of her own plus one of her grandchildren. I spent many summers with her. She questioned the “why” of that early death other grandmother had five and seemed only to appreciate them when they were old enough to add to her comfort and abundance. You can guess which one I loved most. You're right. The one who CARED. Love is always the answer. Feeling low? Put yourself out there helping someone else. The process of loving and forgiving brings us closer to God. When I was a youngster, there was a scripture referred to as the “golden rule.” You probably know it as Matthew 7:12 or Luke 6:31 - “And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.” Look beyond “self.” Love is free and has a truly ricocheting effect. Love well.

Dear John,

I was reading online and found “The Washington Free Beacon.” It reminded me of your publication because the truth is FREE. I hope you go to their website and see the Biden age tracker; it is counting down right to the second. I found several great articles to read and the infamous “Fact Checker.” One of the articles that interested me was about who was pushing the ban on gas stoves. It is a Colorado-based nonprofit called Rocky Mountain institute. This “nonprofit” is linked to China and they are not the clean green machine the masses are led to believe. I hope your readers will take time to visit The Washington Free Beacon and read for themselves. My mom always said, “nothing in life is free,” but the truth of God’s word is free not to be sold. You really cannot buy the truth, one must look for it. All of the Washington swamp has deep roots in China and the buck stops there. I hope you share this with your readers.

Praying for truth,

Dear Praying...first of all, thank you for sharing this valuable piece of information. There is no doubt that everything in our lives has shifted with the advent of the communication technology that is in place today. It was not all that long ago when computers, cell phones and the internet did not exist or were considered to be "novelties." Today's "novelties" appear to be getting to the truth. Was it not Pontius Pilate who threw up his hands and queried to himself, "What is truth?" Today's truth seems to be a matter of convenience and a product of "spin doctors." However, having said that, one can still find reliable sources of information, albeit, not perfect, yet at least having a solid ring of truth. When it comes down to it, the old Latin phrase, "caveat emptor"-let the buyer beware- applies. God supplies us the brain but, it is up to us to learn to use it. And that is the truth.

Sincerely,

Dear John

Oklahoma State Senator Tom Woods Thanks Straight Forward FREE Press

District 4 State Senator Tom Woods Holding his framed copy of Straight Forward FREE Press. Thank you posted on FaceBook

Senator Tom Woods grew up in Westville, Oklahoma, and was elected to the Oklahoma Senate in 2022. He proudly represents the citizens of Senate District 4, which includes Adair County and parts of Delaware, Sequoyah and Cherokee Counties.

Woods was raised on a dairy farm and graduated from Westville Public Schools. His grandparents are both retired educators, and his father worked in a factory while his mother stayed at home to work on the farm and raise his six brothers and sisters.

Tom’s family taught him the value of hard work from a very young age as he was given his first dairy cow at the age of 12, in exchange for milking cows on his parent’s dairy farm. He remained dedicated to his business and had 30 dairy cows by the time he was 18.

He now operates a feed store, trucking company, and a commercial cow/calf operation with 200 cows. Through hard work and commitment, Woods believes we must build up future generations to be active contributors and producers in society, not just consumers.

“What do they know of England who only England know.”
 (Something for the USA to consider about herself.)

FROM OUR READERS

In search of ex-celence July 20th 2023

By Ronny Vann

While taking my two-mile-walk today, I found myself thinking about running again. Only I had to remind myself or, rather remember the verse in Matthew 26:41, "Watch and pray, lest you enter not into temptation. The spirit indeed is willing but the flesh is weak."

I was sorely tempted to run but naw, too many years have flown by. My cross-country days are almost fifty years behind me now. I must be content with walking, though the time it takes me to walk two miles is nothing to brag about! When the subject of running a race comes up, I know for a fact that NDN's are very good at it. Some excel at it more than others. Which brings me to the prefix of ex and its' many uses. We see ex-presidents, congressmen, and women, ex-actresses, or actors, and ex-athletes. From this, one can surmise that ex means past or before, even used to be. Like an ex-wife one who is no longer the wife or in the case of the male, an ex-husband. Though one does not say my "ex-job." It just does not seem to roll off the tongue smoothly. Does it? The armed forces do infiltrate and when the muck hits the proverbial fan, they have to ex-filtrate pretty darn quick. Ex-filtrate would have been a pretty fancy word for the ndn's to use but they just used the words like run or hide! At least, I think they did. I know we used a different word than ex-tract or ex-tracting, when we, uhh, borrowed a farmer's watermelon, tomatoes, or picked some fruit from his trees. Ohh yeah, how about when you re-lax can you ever ex-lax? When one meets a veteran, he or she, is not an ex-serviceman, or woman: they are still soldiers; it never leaves them. One of my pet peeves is when people talk about princess Diane. People conveniently forget she was divorced. She lost the title of princess and become just an untitled person. There are no ex-princesses in my neck of the woods. Remember Prince he said "that he was now the artist formerly known as Prince." He did not want to be called an ex-Prince. One more point to ponder about the so called X-men. Are they no longer men? Maybe too much to stretch it that far, huh? I know of one entity that practices ex-communication. Does this mean you are not able to talk too, or hear from them? I am glad that at least I can not become an ex-ndn, at least until there is an ex-ecutive order to that effect. Might be too much for this simple ndn. If you can help me out please do so! Now I must ex-it until the next time. That means get out of Dodge!

Adair County Care Portal Meeting

Some of the children's needs that have been met since January are diapers and wet wipes, clothing, cribs, toddler beds, twin-sized-mattresses, couches, chairs, a refrigerator, gas stove and several car seats. There have been 21 requests for help since January and 15 were fully met and two partially met with 32 children being served.

The next meeting of this group will be on Wednesday, August 2, 2023 at 9:30 a.m. at the First Baptist Church, Stilwell Youth Building at 801 West Hickory. Any area churches, local organizations, businesses or individuals are invited to attend and join in this effort to help these children.

Tanner Elms

Logan Elms

Huge Congratulations to Tanner Elms and Logan Elms for kicking off their summer jackpot season this weekend in Fayetteville, AR at the Farmington FFA double header jackpot. Tanner stood 1st and 4th. Logan was 5th in a very competitive class. Congrats to these boys and looking forward to the rest of the season.

Cheyenne Yates

Big congratulations to Cheyenne Yates for getting BOB (Best of breed) and BOS (Best opposite) with her lionhead rabbits at the Shawnee county fair in Topeka, KS. She is currently going to go up for best in show.

On July 20th, the Stilwell FFA students Tanner Elms, Sarah Asher, Alexandria Yates, and Cheyenne Yates competed at the big 3 field day. The Stilwell FFA would like to give a special thanks to Mr. Coakley, herd manger at the OSU swine unit, and his staff for letting us tour at the swine unit.

THE CONSERVATIVE VIEW

By Russell Turner

JUST DOING MY JOB

Over the past days there has been a constant drumbeat about the potential indictment of former President Donald Trump concerning the January 6th riot in 2021. As I remember he was impeached by the democrats in Congress even after he was out of office, now we are witnessing a continuing saga of the get Trump play book. As far as I am concerned Trump spoke two words that in my opinion makes any charges null and void, he told his supporters to protest PEACEFULLY AND PATRIOTICALLY and let their voices be heard. In any election there is an option for anyone to challenge the validity of the election; in my state of Oklahoma after the election has been called, it is not certified until the following Friday. In the case of Trump, the liberals and the media keep saying that he was trying to overthrow the election; if we accepted their rhetoric, anyone who challenges the validity of an election is trying to overthrow an election. Recently I was talking to an individual about Trump, and he expressed his disapproval of him because he tried to overthrow the election. This individual has run for public office in the past, and I gave him a scenario to think about. I said, "If you ran for office and didn't get enough votes to win, and you found out that many people who voted did not even live in your district, how would you respond?" Immediately he said that those people should be prosecuted. I told him maybe now he can understand what Trump was trying to do despite a biased media and a justice system that has been corrupted. As all this kangaroo court is taking place, we are witnessing a two-tiered justice system where the liberals are being protected while the hammer falls on anyone who identifies as a conservative. The media has become a complete joke, they refuse to even acknowledge the overwhelming evidence of the Biden family taking money from our most dangerous adversaries. While Joe Biden claims to be a caring man who loves the American people, at the same time he refuses to acknowledge his granddaughter in Arkansas which was sired by his dope-headed son. I have also noticed that the American people are not completely stupid; they see what is going on, and every time another indictment comes down Trump's poll numbers go up. The liberal, woke crowd is pushing this country closer than any of us would like to admit toward a second civil war. We do not need to minimize the left, their actions are showing that they are preparing for war by endless regulations, the promoting of a digital dollar, and wanting to hire 87-thousand gun-toting IRS agents just to name a few. Many people have the idea that American citizens will not fire upon their fellow citizens, we need to look at history to see what humans are capable of. The nation of Germany committed all kinds of atrocities against segments of their society before and during WW2. Their law enforcement and military arrested their fellow Germans who were their neighbors, and who they had known for years; most of those people arrested never returned because they were eliminated in the gas chambers. Those people in power were government employees and they were just doing their job. We in America need to take a lesson from their history, taking orders because of one's job is not an excuse for any atrocity.

WHAT'S SO PUNNY?

PUN FUN

Here come the puns, here come the puns, here come the puns and lots of PUN FUN! How about, for all you kids, a bunch of Dad Jokes? Of course Dad Jokes are not just for kids, but for Dads and Moms and anybody else who likes to laugh. So, get your funny bone and your ribs ready for tickling. Here goes:

1. Date Fright: "I am afraid for the calendar. Why? Its days are numbered."
2. Fore Eyes: Why do fathers take an extra pair of socks with them when they go golfing.? Just in case they get a hole in one. That's only par for the course.
3. Bubbling Over: Singing in the shower is fun until you get soap in your mouth. Then it becomes a soap opera.
4. Fishy Tale: What do you call a fish wearing a bowtie? Sofishticated. Blub, blub...
5. Diet Reckoning: "I thought the dryer was shrinking my clothes. Turns out it was the refrigerator all along." Clothes the fridge door.

Well my dear Punfunsters, this edition of PUN FUN has come to an hilarious end. Keep that funny bone ready for the next installment. Keep that PUN FUN smile in your heart and on your face. Remember, tomorrow always comes after today!

ON THE CAMPAIGN TRAIL

COMMENTARY BY JOHN BANKEL

Today's Trail Treks To.....

LIE LIKE LYE

Nowadays there is a lot of lying going on, especially from the top echelons of government. There is an old adage that goes something like this: How can one tell if a politician is lying? That's easy. When his/her lips are moving. I recall the classic retort of then President H W Busch when he said, "Read my lips: no tax hikes." Not hard to guess what came next, is it? One of the best ways to clean a stuck drain is to use a product called "Drano." When the crystals come in contact with water, they make a hissing sound and soon smoke can be seen and heat can be felt. This is because of the chemical reaction. Drano contains sodium hydroxide, NaOH is the chemical formula. In everyday parlance sodium hydroxide is known as lye. It is the stuff from which soap is made. When someone tells a lie, that lie can set off a "chemical reaction" that can burn the hearer. Politicians use it all the time. They say one thing and then do another. The Biden regime has become particularly adept at speaking out of both sides of the mouth. As a matter of fact, these folks not only speak with forked tongue, but also dodge a question altogether and make one feel like a dope for asking it. That is taking lying to new levels of sophistication. But like Drano, those lies eventually trigger a chain reaction that reverberates throughout our land. The end result is truth goes down the drain and so does all credibility. Biden and his cohort politicians need to have their mouths washed out with soap. A lie is like lye.

Today's Trail has come to an end. Perhaps we will meet again around the bend my friend. May your Trail end up on the right side of the fence. Happy Trails to you, until we meet again.
