Everything Nice Flowers & Gifts/Coco's Cafe & Catering:

What's New?

Over the past several weeks, Everything Nice and Coco's Cafe and Catering have been undergoing some significant changes. Workers have been busy giving the Everything Nice shop a new home, moving everything next door to The Station. The move freed up space for expanding Coco's Cafe's dining area where it now can accommodate up to 50 diners, in a warm and cozy and inviting atmosphere. Lunch is served Monday thru Friday from 10 am to 4 pm. Yet that is not all. Fridays and Saturdays,

Coco's will be offering Family Style dinners from 5 - 8 pm: fried chicken or meat loaf with mashed potatoes, gravy and green beans. Saturday morning will feature Brunch from 9 am until 2 pm. Oh wait, there is more. Another exciting addition will be Saturday night live music performed by outstanding local musicians who are sure to play a favorite tune or two. Wait, there is still more. A Saturday parking lot flea market, weather permitting, is also in the works. Wow! And finally, with prom season just around the corner, Everything Nice has you covered with the most modern head-turning tuxedo fashions as well as the flowers of your date's desire. Sure to knock her socks off! Remember to order early! Everything Nice Flowers and Gifts and Coco's Cafe and Catering look forward to serving you. They are located at 320 S 2nd Street, Stilwell, phone #: 918 696 2606. For good food, good music, good company and good times, come on by!

Two diners enjoy lunch with picture window view at Coco's Cafe's new dining area...

Everything Nice shopping for seasonal gifts, and treasures.

A warm and welcoming experience.

March 15th In History

44 BC: The assassination of Julius Caesar took place on the Ides of March 15. This pivotal event in ancient Rome led to political upheaval and marked a turning point in Roman history.

1972: Francis Ford Coppola's film "The Godfather" premiered in New York City, becoming a cinematic classic and introducing iconic characters like Don Vito Corleone.

Into the Hills

By Donna Boecher

September 1868

Awakened to yet another blessed day, Martha was pleased that there was still okra to pick. Plus, it looked like there would be a lot more tomatoes to pick. She'd staked them because they were about three foot tall and continuing to climb. Looking for yet another blessing, she prayed there would be large green tomatoes to cover in straw in the cellar soon. Those along with the fall greens would keep them strong through the winter if they covered the leaves against the frosty dews. So, for now, Maw picked the okra small and tender - cooking it with a little onion, bacon grease, and salt. Best of all were and would be the fried green tomatoes! Hopefully, Bart and his parents would join them for that "deliciousness." It would be late September before their pumpkins were put in the cellar. The mirliton (Chayote) would also be harvested then - a few saved to plant come Spring. It took a long time for Chayote to grow and mature, so she and Maw made sure they were nestled in deep pine needles. It took a long time. That reminded her, it was about six weeks until Halloween (the hallowed eve before All Saints Day - November 1st). She planned a special day of prayer for then.

WHAT'S SO PUNNY? PUN FUN

Howdy all you PUN FUN fans! Get ready for a new round of puns for your laughing delight. Nothing like a good laugh to get you through the day and even into the night. Some folks collect puns. Some folks collect terrible puns. Here are some terrible ones that a linguistics professor from San Diego University has collected through the years and is not ashamed to share them with his students just to make them groan. Afterwards, the students feel more groan up. No pain, no gain.

1. Twenty Winks: Did you hear about the new corduroy pillowcases? They are really making headlines!
2. Slo Mo No Mo: What do you call a snail that is not moving? An escar-stay.
3. Totally Crazy: Did you hear that Cray is working on a new super computer cluster designed specifically to simulate mental illness? They are calling it the Cray Cray!
4. Hide and Seek: Why does Waldo (from Where's Waldo ) always wear a striped shirt? He does not want to be spotted.
5. Wiped Out: All the toilets in the NYPD headquarters have been stolen. The police apparently have nothing to go on. Just one more for good measure or your punful pleasure.
6. No Can Do: What do you call a broken can opener? A can't opener!

You had to stick around for that last one. PUN FUN tries to save the worst for last. It is the best we can do. Keep the laughter flowing, your smile going, your boat rowing and we will be back again next week for more PUN FUN!

Kontest 10.0

Episode 6 of 8.

Howdy all you Krypto afficianados! Today is the day to play. The Kontest is starting to wind down. So far, it has been a heated competition that will result in a winner when the "shootin' match" is over, with the winner walking away with $25 in Cash and a brand, spanking new calculator. So, if you have not yet partaken in Krypto fun, today is the day to play. Our answer is 9. You are playing with 3, 23, 8, 15, 7. Remember, you must use all five numbers, but each one only once, and any combination of addition, subtraction, multiplication or division to write an expression that equals the answer: 9. Ready for a challenge? Ready for some fun? Grab a pencil and get 'er done.

Email your solution to: themathguy@usa.com or snail mail: Krypto Kontest POB 885 Stiwell 74960.

The Road To A Championship Comes To An End

A good time was had by all. Every season has to come to an end. The final game may be a win or a loss. The Indians and Lady Indians had one heckuva season, when all is said and done. One could say these two teams exceeded all expectations when they both punched their tickets to State. Only 8 teams in the entire Class 4A achieve that distinction. That is why we use "the elite 8" to mark that territory. As of this writing, there are now 2 teams left in each division. For the boys, it will be Weatherford, who beat Stilwell in the quarterfinals 54-34, versus OKC Douglass. For the girls, Bethany will be pitted against Lincoln Christian. The Lady Indians lost to Lincoln Christian in the quarterfinals, 54-36. At the end of these final games, one team will remain standing to hoist the coveted Gold Ball. My money is on Weatherford for the boys and Bethany for the girls. The games will be hard fought. The road to a championship is over for the Indians and Lady Indians, yet in a way, it has only just begun. A new season beckons. A new road has been paved with the experience of the 2024 State Qualifier season. Both the boys and the girls will have a number of key players who have gained a wealth of experience playing at a high level. Among the returnees for the boys will be 2 outstanding Freshmen: Brayton Carter, who has shown flashes of brilliance as a play making point guard and Chase Benham, who also made significant contributions, along with Juniors Kason Dowty and possibly returning from his season ending injury, Brayden George. For the girls, they will be returning Sophomore Piper Blackburn, who came into her own in the playoffs, in addition to a very talented group of Juniors such as Kenzie Starr, Katelyn Wilson and Prairie Holmes. Addendum: In the boys' division, the Gold Ball belongs to OKC Douglass, having defeated favorite Weatherford in an overtime thriller: 72-69. The Bethany Bronchos handily won over Lincoln Christian, 48-28 to take home their second consecutive Gold Ball. And that my friends is The Finale. And a good time was had by all!

We want to congratulate our 2024 Watts Powerlifting team for placing in the OPCA Class NE C Regional Runner-Up! Way to go Engineers!

Dear John,

My brothers get away with murder. My mom says that I'm overreacting. What happened is, my older brother took my mom's van for a ride with my younger brother. The older brother has a driver's license, but the younger does not. My younger brother wanted to drive, and my older brother let him. They ran off the road in the country and put my mom's van in a ditch. They called our dad and he went and pulled the van out with his pickup. My brothers did not get punished. I told mom that they should have at least been grounded. She said, "They have been punished." I really do not understand how that makes sense. Those boys can do no wrong I guess. Do you think I'm "overreacting?"

The Middle Child

Dear Middle Child...it is well documented that the middle child usually gets the short end of the stick when it comes to treatment within the family. They are much ignored. The oldest has the driver's seat and the youngest the catbird's seat. The middle one tries to find a seat. That is the way family dynamics play out in most instances. The problem is nobody notices except the middle child. More often than not, the middle child ends up becoming disconsolate and becoming the proverbial "black sheep" and becoming adept at getting attention, albeit the negative kind. In your case, you seem to be aware of the discrepancy between how you are being treated versus your brothers. It is a bitter pill to swallow indeed, yet you may just have to "grin and bear it" until you are on your own.

Sincerely,

Dear John

MORE INSANITY

We Americans, at least those of us who were born here, are required to show a photo ID for countless things we do each day. If you want to purchase a firearm, fly on an airplane, or purchase some hay-fever medication that was once available on the local Wal-Mart shelf you must show a photo ID. I agree that some of the regulations are a little redundant, but there is one requirement on photo ID that I do agree with, it is the requirement when you go to your polling place to vote. A few days ago, the Biden administration's Attorney General made a statement that I totally disagree with.

Attorney General Merrick Garland, on March 3, declared that efforts by states to implement voter ID laws are "unnecessary" and "burdensome." According to Garland, the right to vote "is still under attack," though he provided little evidence in his speech for how requiring identification would be an assault on voting rights. AG Garland stated, "One thing that must not be open for debate is the right of all eligible citizens to vote and to have their vote counted." I just wonder how does anyone know if the potential voter is eligible or not unless they can prove it with an ID? When Garland took office, he doubled the size of the voting section of the Civil Rights division; according to him he is challenging efforts by states and jurisdictions to implement discriminatory, burdensome, and unnecessary restrictions on access to the ballot, including those related to mail-in voting, the use of drop boxes, and voter ID requirements. While Garland opposes voter ID most Americans support requiring an ID to vote, a Gallup poll from late 2022 found that eight in 10 Americans support them. In a recent Heritage Foundation article, the majority of Democrat, black, Latino, and low-income voters also support such laws and proposals. Those that oppose voter ID measures do not object to the requirement that voters verify their identity when voting—which is already standard in every state—but rather the means used to verify them. They claim that a significant portion of U.S. voters do not have a photo ID such as a driver's license, state ID card, or passport.

It seems to me that there is some kind of insanity that has become contagious, and too many of our elected officials have become infected. If any of us average American citizens want to fly on a commercial airplane, we must have a photo ID, but if you are an illegal alien, you do not have to provide any documentation if you want to hop on an airplane. I just wonder how many illegals will be showing up at our polling sites wanting to vote in our elections this year? By some estimates over 8 million illegals have flooded into our nation since resident Biden took office; I might note that the population of my state of Oklahoma is a little over 4 million. It does not take a rocket scientist to know what is on the liberals' minds. They are wanting to flood our country with huge numbers of illegals and eventually grant them some kind of citizenship so they can vote for the ones that are kissing their backsides and providing all kinds of taxpayer-funded perks. The liberals know that we Americans are a divided society along conservative and liberal ideals, all they are wanting to do is to stack the deck in their favor regardless of what it is doing to our nation. What Garland is doing is an attempt to cause chaos in our voting system, but the liberals feed upon that chaos, just look at the election in 2020.

Jimmy Dale Brown

March 22, 1954 - March 4, 2024

Jimmy Dale Brown, 69, of Pollock, Louisiana, entered into eternal rest on March 4, 2024, in Alexandria, Louisiana. He was born March 22, 1954, in Stilwell, Oklahoma, to Arnold and Joan Southern Brown.

After graduating high school in 1972, Jimmy joined the United States Air Force. After many years of dedicated service, he left to be a wonderful husband of 42 years to Evelyn Brown and a loving father to Kim (Buck) Roshto and Trisha (Matthew) Austin. He was a truck driver for many of his children's younger years. Most of us know him today as the exemplary pastor for 20 plus years at Verda Church of Christ. He loved being a pastor and the congregation will miss him. Outside of preaching, he loved the outdoors, leatherworking, and being a wonderful grandparent to Jacob Austin, Jayden (Dustin) McMillian, Jenna Austin, Neil Roshto and Nolan Roshto.

He has made a lasting impact that will be remembered by his wife, children, grandchildren, and siblings. He leaves behind his wife Evelyn of the home; his daughters Kim (Buck) Roshto and Trisha (Matthew) Austin; his grandchildren Jacob, Jayden, Jenna, Neil and Nolan; two brothers Dennis (Terry) Brown and Dwayne (Edith) Brown and one sister Carolyn (Alvin) Workman all of Stilwell, Oklahoma. A host of nieces, nephews, friends and other relatives also survive him.

He was preceded in death by his parents Arnold and Joan Southern Brown; one brother Johnny Mack Brown; and one sister Mary Jane Yonker; along with his paternal grandparents Artemus and Myrtle Brown; and his maternal grandparents William Southern and Beulah and Clarence Spears.

His final wishes will be fulfilled and honored by his wife and family. His final resting place will be on top of the Mountain in Evansville, Arkansas.

The title of this article are words that the poet Alexander Pope penned in his famous poem "Essay On Man." To say that these words are filled with optimism would be an understatement. Written in 1734, the poem encapsulates the Enlightenment vision of a universe ordered by a wise God. These words came to me after I learned of the recent 9-0 SCOTUS ruling in favor of Donald J Trump restoring him to the Colorado Ballot. It is easy to get down when one contemplates the incessant persecution that Biden and his marxist mob have inflicted upon Trump ever since he beat Clinton in 2016. The SCOTUS verdict has given hope just in the nick of time when all seemed to be on the verge of total totalitarian collapse sending America into the abyss of communism. The 9 justices have brought in some daylight after a long night of injustice at the hands of the democrat party who keep screaming, "We must save our democracy" while doing everything in their power to destroy it. One can only imagine the weeping and gnashing of teeth when the democrats learned of Trump's, and I mean Trump's, victory. Exoneration at its finest. We can now move forward in the battle to defeat Biden's marxist mob and once again hear the refrain of freedom on America's highways and byways. "Liberty and Justice for all" will have been restored when Donald J Trump reclaims the White House. Hope springs eternal... in the human breast.

Today's Trail has come to an end. Perhaps we will meet again around the bend, my friend. Meanwhile, may your Trail end up on the right side of the fence. Happy Trails to you!

POETRY PORTAL

The Poetry Portal will expose its readers to authors who wrote both in America and elsewhere – entertaining readers all over the world.

America is the home of many authors and poets who became famous in both America and Europe. Rudyard Kipling was such an author (born 1865 in India with family in America and England); he would live several years in Vermont. Kipling wrote, while in America, The Jungle Book Kipling would become the youngest writer to receive the Nobel Prize in 1907 for his writings about India. Washington Irving (born 1783 in New York) was also a writer who would become famous in Spain and around the world for his Tales of the Alhambra. Still today, children hear his stories entitled Rip Van Winkle and The Legend of Sleepy Hollow. In 1832, Washington Irving had ridden out onto the Oklahoma prairie when it was known only as Indian Territory; he entitled his book A Tour on the Prairies. Speaking of Fry Bread, he said, "No one knows the true relish of food until he has a hunter's appetite."
